GAYNOR BOY BEST ORATOR

CLYDE SPARKS WINS COUNTY CONTEST ON CONSTITUTION.

TO GO TO UNIONVILLE

Marvin Shamberger, Maryville, Is Second.—Last Year's Winner Finds Harder Sledding.

First, Clyde Sparks, Gaynor, Maryville.

Second, Marvin Shamberger, Maryville.

Third, Lester Hall, State Teachers College High School; and Arthur Brewer, Maryville, tied.

Fourth, George Hargraves, Barnard High School.

Clyde Sparks, 17-year-old junior in the Gaynor high school, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Sparks, won first place last night in the County Oratorical Contest on the Constitution. He will represent Nodaway County in the district contest to be held at Unionville, March 30. The winner there will go to Kansas City.

The contest last night was held in the auditorium of the Maryville high school.

Sparks spoke on "The Development of the Constitution," tracing its growth amid the doubt and suspicion of the time to a document which offers positive guarantees to posterity. There were three judges, but the small audience had Sparks marked as the winner long before the judges had compiled their notes to render a decision. The winner gave his ten minute theme on the Constitution with all the essentials of good oratory. Miss Halley Ford is the proud coach of the youthful orator.

Debater in Second Place.

Marvin Shamberger, junior in the Maryville high school, and active in forensic work, placed second with his oration, also on "The Development of The Constitution." He is the son of Frank Shamberger, living southwest of Maryville. His coach was Mrs. Vern Manley.

A tie resulted for third place between Arthur Brewer, representing the Maryville high school, and Lester Hall, representing the College high school. Brewer, a sophomore, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brewer, sr. His subject, like the first two was "The Development of The Constitution." He was coached by Mrs. Manley.

Lester Hall is a junior in his school and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Hall, near Wilcox. He spoke on "The Present Significance of The Constitution." He was coached by Miss Gladys Criswell.

George Hargraves of the Barnard high school, who won first in the county last year and who placed second in the district contest at Kirksville, came back last night as the representative of his school but found competition much stronger. Hargraves spoke on "The Present Significance of The Constitution." The orator is a senior in his school, an active participant in forensic work, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Hargraves:. He was coached by Mrs. L. E. White.

The Three Judges.

The judges were Miss Elizabeth White, member of the State Teachers College faculty; the Reverend William N. Dewar, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church; and L. L. Livengood, Maryville attorney.

The contest was presided over by the Rev. R. A. Mitchell, pastor of M. E. Church, South.

Leslie G. Somerville, county superintendent of schools, and chairman of the county oratorical contest, collected the ballots, compiled the decisions, and handed them to the chairman to announce.

While the ballots were being collected and made ready for announcement, two piano selections were played by Miss Helen Kramer.

Before announcing the winners the Reverend Mr. Mitchell said, "The effort of these orators well deserved having this auditorium filled. It was worth the interest of the entire community."

The crowd was small, not more than thirty persons being present, most of whom were adults.

AND THEY ALL WANT TO FLY WITH "LINDY"

Flier's Offer to Congress Accepted by 310, With 300 More on Waiting List.

Washington, March 23.—Everybody wants to fly with Lindbergh. His invitation to Congress already has been accepted by 310 members and relatives who have been taken aloft in three days, and 200 to 300 more applications received will keep him busy today and Saturday in piloting sightseeing airplanes over Washington.

The flier carried 149 persons on seventeen trips yesterday by employing two huge transport planes, one of which was being filled with passengers while he was driving the other.

BUYS 2 MORE LIGHT PLANTS

MARYVILLE COMPANY PURCHASES AT BOLCKOW AND REA.

LINES BOUGHT ALSO

Improvements Are Planned at Maryville and New Wires to Barnard. Harrison Announces.

Acquisition of two more electric light companies and two transmission lines by the Maryville Electric Light and Power Company were announced today by R. L. Harrison, district manager.

Mr. Harrison said the plants at Bolckow and Rea have been purchased, subject to the approval of the Missouri Public Service Commission, and that application was being filed with the commission today. The commission already has approved of the purchase of the Union Star Electric Light Company. Possession will be given April 1.

The transmission lines purchased were the line from Barnard to Bolckow and the line from Bolckow to Rosendale, the latter being purchased from the Rosendale Electric Light Company. With these acquisitions the Maryville Electric Light and Power Company now owns completely the transmission lines from Maryville to King City, which will enable the office here to keep the lines in better repair. Mr. Harrison said that as soon as the Public Service Commission approves of the new purchases, the company will file a schedule of new rates which call for a reduction of light rates.

The local light and power company is now drawing plans to build a new transmission line with a 33,000-volt capacity from Maryville to Barnard, which will be built along Highway No. 71. This line will be easier to maintain because of its location along the paving. Mr. Harrison said it was planned to start this work within the next sixty days. The present transmission line, which is two miles east of the paving, will be left intact in most places, in order to serve the farm customers. Copper wires will be placed on the new transmission line to Barnard and this will reduce the resistance.

The company also is planning extensive remodeling in Maryville. The plans call for rebuilding the transmission lines in the alleys on the east side of Main street, similar to the new line put in last summer in the alley on the west side of the street. Also, the lines in the west residential district will be improved. Two new large feeder regulators for the Maryville substation have been ordered, at a cost of $6,000. They have a capacity of 500 amperes each and they eliminate fluctuations in power.

TOWNS ELECT ON APRIL 3

TO CHOOSE COUNCILMEN AND SCHOOL DIRECTORS THEN.

SOME HOLD CAUCUSES

Usual Tax Levies for School Purposes to Be Voted on—Maryville to Have School Election Only.

The cities and towns of Nodaway county will go to the polls April 3— a week from Tuesday—for the purpose of electing members of the town boards and school directors. Rural school districts also will hold elections.

Guilford, Ravenwood and Parnell already have held mass meetings for the purpose of selecting nominees to the town boards. Burlington Junction will hold its caucus on April 2.

This is an off year for a city election in Maryville, but the regular school election will be conducted here at the city hall.

Guilford citizens, at a mass meeting held Tuesday evening, selected W. F. Davies, Hugh Ellis, Carl Wray, O. C. Bradley and O. H. Spicer as the nominees for members of the board of trustees of that town. It was stated at the meeting that any person or number of persons has a right to get out one or more additional tickets to be voted on April 3. The five persons having a majority of the votes cast are the ones who will constitute the new board.

Ravenwood selected nominees for the town board at a meeting last week. They are I. A. Goodson, F. H. Burns, J. S. Casteel, I. A. Wells, W. A. Conn, A. H. Stoneburner, George Loomis, B. B. Holtman, Walter Davis and S. P. Ross. They will be voted on at the April 3 election.

Aldermen Nominated.

At a town caucus held at Parnell recently, Harry Bird and L. M. Kibler were nominated for aldermen from the north ward, and Roe Elkins and Virgil Crenshaw from the south ward.

At Hopkins Dr. C. W. Kirk, who has been mayor, is being urged to run again. Two members of the school board, Albert Mutti and Fred J. Yeomans, whose terms expire at this time, also are urged to run again.

The regular city and school election will be held at Burlington Junction on April 3. The following officers will be filled for terms of two years each: Mayor, marshal, tax collector, police judge, and one alderman from each ward. No candidates have as yet announced for any of the offices. The terms of L. C. Severs and L. Roy Sims will expire as school directors at this time. A caucus will be held at the armory on the evening preceding the day of the election for the nomination of candidates.

Full Ticket at Skidmore.

Skidmore will elect a mayor, collector, marshal and one alderman from each of the wards. The alderman will be elected for two-year terms. At the school election two members of the board of education will be elected for three years each. The voters will vote on the proposal for the usual tax increase necessary to maintain nine months of school.

Aldermen whose terms expire are C. E. Linville, first ward and J. R. Gibbs, second ward. Other outgoing officers are Mark T. Loucks, mayor; William Bodle, marshal; and C. H. Geyer, city collector. The terms of F. I. Goslee and M. A. Sewell, school board directors, expire.

Elmo to Elect Trustees.

Elmo will elect five trustees to serve one year at its town election. Judges of election are J. H. McIntyre, J. J. Snodderley and W. D. Beaver.

At the Elmo school election, the patrons will elect two directors for three years each and vote on a levy of 35c on each $100 assessed valuation in addition to the 40c required by law for the purpose of the maintenance of the schools for the ensuing year.

Trustees at Barnard.

At Barnard's town election, five trustees are to be elected, and they choose one of their number as mayor. The present trustees are Ray Davis, mayor; Roy Dane, L. D. Goforth, J. P. Gorsuch and E. F. Smith. There have been no nominations for the April 3 voting.

Two directors for terms of three years each will be chosen at the Barnard school election. The directors whose terms expire are Paul Campbell and R. E. Cook. A levy of 60 cents in addition to the 40 cents provided by statute will be submitted.

CITY "HOTEL" GIVES LODGING TO OVER 200

Summer-Like Weather Lessens Demand at Jail, but "Boarders" Continue to Come.

In spite of early summer-like weather, floaters continue to make use of the city jail for free lodgings, Maryville officers stated today. One transient made use of the bunks in the city jail, in the fire house, last night and four were "registered" the night before.

More than two hundred persons, staying in Maryville one night and then catching a freight or hoofing it out the next morning, have been given quarters in the city jail since September 15, the officers stated. A record of most of the floaters has been kept at the fire station and it shows that 163 made use of the city jail bunks, but the officers say the list is not accurate.

Persons unable to pay for a night's lodging will continue to "stop" at the jail over night during the warm months but not is as great numbers as they did during the fall and winter months.

ENOUGH CANS FOR AN ARMY

DUMP PILE SHOWS SOURCE OF MUCH MARYVILLE FOOD.

HAULING SETS RECORD

116 Truck Loads of Rubbish Carted Away in Spring Clean-Up—Two Boys Profit.

A glance over the city dump pile on the east side of Water street, between Sixth and Seventh, where trucks have been piling refuse for the last two days in the annual spring clean-up, would lead one to believe that Maryville lived on canned goods during the winter months.

Empty cans by the thousands were dumped into the ravine where the dump ground is located, slowly filling it to the level of the road.

But tin cans were not all that industrious Maryville citizens left on their parkways for city trucks to gather in the last two days. The remains of five automobiles had found their way to the dump ground and Orville Carmichael who was superintending the dumping of rubbish, said that the truck drivers had four other rusted "wrecks" to pull over to the dump pile before night.

A record in the number of truck loads of rubbish was established in this spring clean-up. One hundred and sixteen motor truck loads had been hauled to the ground at 1:35 o'clock this afternoon and it was estimated that from 125 to 130 loads would be the total. Last year ninety-eight loads was the total and once about 105 loads were hauled away in the spring clean-up.

It was announced that after today the dump grounds on Water street would be closed and that only by the consent of the mayor could rubbish be hauled to these grounds. Starting at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, twelve men were on the force clearing up the rubbish. This force was diminished to seven this noon.

Seventy-seven loads were hauled yesterday and thirty-eight this morning.

Yesterday afternoon two boys drew up alongside of the dump grounds in a "dismantled whoopie," rummaged around in the piles of tin cans and whatnot, carted their findings of battered aluminum and brass to the junk dealer and went home with $14 in their pockets.

NYE REPLIES TO AL SMITH

LETTER CHARGES HE BLOCKED WALSH NOMINATION.

"AID TO SCOUNDRELS"

Attempt Made to "Undermine Public Confidence" in Oil Committee, Senator Says.

Albany, N. Y., Mar. 23.—Governor Smith will not reply to the letter of U. S. Senator Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota until he has received it, he said today.

The chief executive was shown press reports on the letter and although he read them with evident interest he said he would have nothing to say until he had received the original letter.

Washington, March 23.—Supporters of Governor Al Smith blocked the nomination of Senator Walsh of Montana, and supported John W. Davis of the house of Morgan in the 1924 convention, Chairman Nye of the Senate Teapot Dome committee charged today in a letter to Smith.

Nye said he based his charge on an analysis of the vote in the convention "made by Mr. Callahan of Louisville, ky., who was a delegate to the convention."

Nye said later he referred in his mention of Mr. Callahan to P. H. Callahan, Louisville, Ky., prominent Democrat and Catholic who has opposed the Smith candidacy.

In his first copy of his letter, Nye directly charged Smith with responsibility for rejection of Walsh as a compromise candidate. In a correction issued a half hour later, Nye amended his charge to lay responsibility upon "supporters of Smith."

Walsh Leading Investigator.

The point was made by Nye in connection with his contention that Smith had opposed Walsh, who was a leading Senate investigator in the Teapot Dome oil inquiry.

Walsh and Smith are candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Nye made the charge in reply to Smith's recent letter accusing Nye of "demogogic slander" because of Nye's statement in the Senate that Smith had appointed Harry Sinclair, indicted oil man, to the New York state racing commission after Sinclair had been "a liberal contributor" to the New York Democratic committee.

Nye also charged Smith with giving "aid and comfort to every scoundrel whose infamy has been exposed, by seeking to undermine public confidence in the fairness and impartiality of the committee in the midst of its investigation."

Contributed in 1918?

At another point Nye asked Smith, "might it be that your reticence to speak out against these scandals sooner is attributable to the fact that Harry F. Sinclair was a member of your official family and had, as newspapers now report, contributed in 1918 when you were a successful candidate for governor, to the Democratic committee in New York?"

Nye said at the start of his 1,500 word letter to Smith that he had not charged Smith with being connected with the oil scandal. On the contrary, Nye said, he had informed the Senate the committee would not call Smith because it did not consider this material to its inquiry.

"So these are the facts upon which you base an abusive letter freely charging me with 'infamous insinuations,' 'demagogic slander' and 'reckless' and 'outrageous conduct'," Nye wrote.

"While I resent and repel these unwarranted misstatements, I do not propose to engage with you in any controversy on that level.

"Humor in Charge."

"You gratuitously charge me, however, with being a party to a plot to enable the Republican party to 'escape in some measure the penalty for the disgraceful record of the party in connection with these scandals.' In other words you impeach me, as the chairman of the committee in charge of the investigation, as being engaged in an effort to protect culprits whose exposure by the committee would injure the Republican party. There is just a bit of humor in your charge."

"Surely you cannot be ignorant of the fact that upon my own initiative and responsibility and without the suggestion of any other member of the committee, Republican or Democrat,

Marsh to Turn Over Democratic Records

Former Treasurer to Surrender List of Campaign Contributions to U. S. Attorney.

Chicago, March 23.—Wilbur Marsh, former treasurer of the Democratic national committee, today surrendered for service of a subpoena demanding that he turn over to the U. S. District Attorney of New York City all records of Democratic campaign contributions between 1918-21.

Mash, enroute from New York to Waterloo, Ia., said he had read of the subpoena in a newspaper and appeared for service as soon as he reached Chicago. He said he would return to New York City with the records in a few hours.

The records are wanted in connection with the filing of income tax returns.

BLAZING TREE FALLS ON BUS

FIVE SCHOOL CHILDREN AND DRIVER DIE.

THREE OTHERS ESCAPE

Giant Mississippi Pine, by Side of the Road, Catches Fire From Burning Grass.

Leaf, Miss., March 23.—A giant pine tree, blazing on the side of a road, caused the deaths of five school children and a bus driver yesterday when it toppled and fell across a school bus.

The blazing tree, which had caught fire from burning grass, ignited the bus.

The dead, all of whom were either crushed or burned to death:

David Goff, driver of the bus.

Marie Goff, his daughter.

Hattie and Nettie Goff, twin daughters of William Goff, brother of the driver.

Edna Goff, another niece of the driver.

Evan Mizelle.

Erastus and Horace Goff, brothers of Edna, were thrown from the car by the impact and suffered broken legs. One girl, whose identity had not been determined, escaped uninjured.

The bodies of the victims, burned almost beyond recognition, were placed beside the road and soon after nightfall all were identified. The children were all under 16.

Goff was carrying the group home from school in Salem when the accident occurred. A fire had been smouldering in an adjacent woodlands for several days. The tree, a towering pine, had been burning for hours.

BUILD FLYING BOAT TO CARRY 50 PASSENGERS

Los Angeles, March 23.—The greatest flying boat ever built with a capacity of fifty passengers and which may be used in a Germany-United States service—now is under construction, Brig. Gen. P. R. C. Groves, secretary general of the British Air League, said today in an interview.

The plane is being built at the German Dornier Company on the Swiss side of Lake Constance, Groves said.

Most of the details in connection with the new air monster are unavailable, as the company is making every effort to keep its plans and the plans of the plane secret. However, it was learned, Groves said, that among other things the plane has the following specifications:

Wing span of approximately 158 feet.

Fully loaded will weigh 44 tons.

Twelve monster engines.

Twelve propellors.

Passenger capacity of 50.

Dining room and sleeping compartments.

It will dwarf all existing heavier-than-air craft.

A NEW FLOOD BILL FRAMED

SENATE COMMITTEE WOULD HAVE U. S. PAY COSTS.

FIVE MAJOR CHANGES

Board of Engineers Increased From Three to Five.—No Local Funds Required.

Vote on Farm Bill Monday.

Washington, March 23.—The House agriculture committee decided today to take a final vote on the McNary-Haugen bill Monday.

Before this vote is taken the committee will vote on the Ketcham bill providing the debenture plan of farm relief. This is expected to be defeated and the McNary-Haugen measure reported favorably.

Washington, March 23.—The Senate commerce committee agreed unanimously today on a new flood control bill requiring no local contributions and increasing membership of the board of engineers in charge of the project from three to five.

Chairman Jones said the committee adopted so many amendments to the bill originally reported that it was considered necessary to draft a new measure.

Jones named the following five major changes which the committee adopted from the nucleus of the original Jones bill:

Board Is Increased.

1.—The governing board will be increased from three to five members by addition of the Secretary of War and a civilian engineer. All appointees are to be named by the President and confirmed by the Senate.

2.—The provision requiring local districts to furnish one-third of the cost of raising levees to the 1914 grade was eliminated. The related provision stating the sense of Congress that local contributions should be made was retained with a statement that the $292,000,000 already contributed by the localities should be considered sufficient for the new flood control project.

3.—A provision was adopted stating that just compensation shall be paid by the government for all property taken by condemnation and that this property be turned over to the states without cost.

To Delay Some Work.

4.—An amendment was adopted providing that no works between Baton Rouge and Cape Girardeau should be undertaken until the board decides whether control spillways or fuse-plug spillways are best to meet the situation.

5.—An amendment was adopted directing the Secretary of War to prepare immediately projects for the main tributaries and their tributaries awaiting the report of the survey being undertaken in connection with the general rivers and harbors appropriation bill. The secretary would be directed to submit the new project to the board and the board would submit it to Congress.

Washington, Mar. 23.—Members of the Michigan congressional delegation indicated privately today that they anticipated Governor Green, Michigan, would appoint former Representative Fordney, co-author of the Fordney-McCumber tariff bill, as successor to the late Senator Ferris.

They doubted suggestions that Henry Ford might be appointed.

ROCKEFELLER DENIES BREAK

COAL COMPANIES KEPT FAITH WITH MINERS, HE SAYS.

SCHWAB THEIR FRIEND

Interested in Welfare of Labor but Against Unions, He Tells Senate Committee.

Washington, Mar. 23.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., denied before the Senate coal investigating committee today that coal companies in which he is interested have ever broken contracts with the United Mine Workers.

T. C. Townsend, United Mine Workers council, asked Rockefeller if he knew that the Consolidation Coal Company, in which he owns a large block of stock, abrogated its agreement with the miners.

"I read a newspaper article which quoted John L. Lewis as charging that the Consolidation Company violated its contract," Rockefeller said. "I investigated and found the charge unfounded."

Charles W. Schwab, chairman of the board of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, told the Senate coal investigators he is primarily interested in the welfare of labor but does not believe in collective bargaining.

"I have not made one dollar out of the Bethlehem Steel Company," he said. "It has been a work of love. I hope I have been a pioneer in bettering the condition of labor."

He said the cooperative system adopted by his company is the ideal solution for the labor problem.

The investigation committee went to the top of the bituminous industry today for information on the mine strike, with Rockefeller, Schwab and R. B. Mellon, of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, appearing.

Late News

New York, Mar. 23.—The nerve-wracking pace of recent weeks continued on the floor of the New York stock exchange today, with prices bouyant and traders collapsing under the tremendous strain of the three-million share boom.

Washington, March 23. — Senator Borah today received an additional $1,100 in contributions to his fund to repay the $160,000 Republican campaign contribution of Harry F. Sinclair, indicted oil man.

These contributions brought the total of cash on hand to about $5,500, Borah said.

He declined to give the name of contributors.

Washington, Mar. 23.—Nearly half of a detatchment of 1,000 marines recently ordered to Nicaragua was on the high seas today while the remainder was expected to sail from Norfolk tonight.

Valley Field, Que., Mar. 23.—George McDonald was hanged on the flaming red gallows at Bordeaux prison at dawn today, paying with his life for a murder he and his wife both admitted.

The wife, Doris, escaped a like fate when her death sentence—which was to have been carried out simultaneously with that of her husband—was commuted to life imprisonment Wednesday. She was in her cell at the women's prison at Montreal as her husband calmly went to death.

Representative Theodore Burton in a speech at Cleveland said he desired to stop the "whispering campaign" against Herbert Hoover and referred to the commerce secretary as a constructive candidate.

William R. Wilcox, chairman of the Republican national committee when Charles Evans Hughes was a Republican presidential candidate, on the floor of the convention. He had a conference with the President yesterday but would not disclose the subject.

Arthur B. Rule, head of the Federated Fruit and Grocers Association, said agricultural interests were in favor of Herbert Hoover as Republican presidential nominee.

Body of Missourian on Way to Boonville

Funeral of Roger L. Short, S-4 Victim, to Be Held There Sunday Afternoon.

Boonville, Mo., March 23.—The body of Roger L. Short, chief torpedo man on the ill-fated S-4, will arrive in Boonville tomorrow and a military funeral will be held Sunday afternoon.

Boonville was Short's home. Members of the American Legion will have charge of the funeral.

Short left a note, written in pencil on a small metal box. It read:

"In case of my death, please send entire contents of box to my mother, Mrs. M. G. Short, 804 Spring street, Boonville, Mo. Roger L. Short."

There was no hint of those last hours when the man waited and prayed for rescue, and listened to their leader, Lieut. Graham Fitch, tap out pleading messages to the rescuers.

In the tin box was found two bank books and a bill fold containing $52, an express check book containing $30 in checks and $40 in cash. There were some medals and other personal belongings.

Short was serving his fourth enlistment when he died. He had seen service in the Mexican, Haitian and World War campaigns and once had been awarded a good conduct medal.

NYE REPLIES TO AL SMITH

I appointed an investigator, on the basis of information privately furnished to me, who traced bonds of the Continental Trading Company, owned by Harry F. Sinclair, directly to the coffers of the Republican national committee through the banks of New York City.

"You cannot be ignorant of the fact that following my public announcement of this fact on February 11, I recalled Will Hays, former treasurer of the Republican national committtee, to the witness stand for further examination.

Resolution By Norris.

"You cannot be ignorant of the fact that the resolution under which the committee is now acting was drafted and introduced by Senator Norris, not a Democrat but a Republican, and the leader of the progressive group with which I have been identified from the day I entered the Senate.

"You cannot be ignorant of the fact that the resolution of April, 1922, which made possible all the revelations now before the public, was introduced by the late Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin, a Progressive Republican whom I supported for President in 1924 while you were supporting John W. Davis of the House of Morgan—after your suporters had effectually blocked the nomination in the convention of Senator Walsh of Montana as a compromise candidate, according to my understanding of the analysis of the vote in the convention made by Mr. Callahan of St. Louis who was a delegate to the convention.

"First Condemnation."

"Under these circumstances, it ill becomes you to accuse me of partisan motives or conduct in the performance of my duties as an official, in a letter which, by the way, reports the first public condemnation, by yourself, of the oil scandals which has come to my notice.

"Might it be that your reticence to speak out against these scandals sooner is attributable to the fact that Harry F. Sinclair was a member of your official family and had as newspapers now report contributed in 1918 when you were a successful candidate for governor to a Democratic committee in New York; this thought is merely suggested by your letter.

"You need not concern yourself in the least as to the 'public humiliation' which you state your letter will bring down upon me. I do not propose to be deterred in the performance of my official duty by abuse or criticism of my work from you or from anyone else. I shall go on determined to do my duty as I see it in the hope that I can contribute something to that cause which would end the frightful and destructive influence of money, won from unhealthy sources, and used in election campaigns and in this work will shield none who are guilty, be they Republicans, Democrats or any other shade of political faith.

"Aid to Scoundrels."

"I only regret that you have seen fit to give aid and comfort to every scoundrel whose infamy has been exposed by seeking to undermine public confidence in the fairness and impartiality of the committee, in the midst of its investigation. That is the status you now occupy, in my humble judgment as the result of your unwarranted letter with whatever 'public humiliation' it brings to yourself."

Merritt Baldwin, confidential secretary to Sinclair in 1922, 1923 and 1924, told the Teapot Dome committee in its hearing today how Sinclair sent $25,000 to former Secretary of Interior Fall to enable Fall to go to Russia for Sinclair.

"Sinclair told Colonel Zevely to get Fall to act as a sort of outside counsel," Baldwin said. "Sinclair thought Fall was the best man for the job."

Fall was hired and did go to Russia for Sinclair, Baldwin said.

Baldwin, employed by a rubber company in New Haven, Conn., said he did not know anything regarding the liberty bond transactions of the Continnental Trading Company.

No Bond Trail in Ohio.

Committee investigators have found no bond trails in their investigations at Sullivan, Ind., and Marion, Ohio. Reports to the committee indicate that no evidence could be found in Sullivan of the story that a block of $340,000 of Sinclair's liberty bonds were on deposit in a bank in that city, which is the in the sale of the Marion, Ohio, Star home town of Will Hays, former chairman of the Republican national committee to a report of the investigator.

Her's to Make People Forget, Says Miss Sylvia Tell, Dancer

"My job is make people forget their material grievances, to carry them out of the humdrum of existence for a few hours," Miss Sylvia Tell, America's premiere danseuse, who is to appear at the College next Monday night, told a group of clubwomen in Chicago recently when they were inquiring about her work.

"And I never bring into my performance a mind full of material grievances; for if I do, I not only cheat my public, who have faith in my ability to carry them out of the humdrum of existence for a few hours, but, worst of all, I cheat mself by falling short of my ideals.

"I stand in the wings," she continued, "somebody steps on my toes, somebody pushes me or talks crossly to me. I am sad; I am full of misgivings; I am angry. It comes time for me to go on. I think of my art message, forget about Sylvia—I put everything out of my mind—like that!"

She jumped to her feet and took two swagger steps. She made the sign of the cross and stamped her foot. "Now," she said, "I am tranquil, I take the mood of my dance."

Miss Tell believes the public is beginning to realize than an artist is human. "Yes, we are very human," she says. "We have our struggles, our heartaches, our happiness. Why cover this fact? Why be afraid of being natural? It is only after the glamor and extra trimmings have been cast aside that the artist and the public can look into each other's hearts, and build that perfect understanding. After all, an artist is like an evangelist, using the theater instead of the church—crushed hopes and unshed tears have made it endure throughout the ages."

In addition to Miss Tell the concert next Monday evening Laura Townsley McCoy, coloratura soprano, and Leith Stevens, pianist, will give two or three groups of numbers. Reserved seats went on sale this morning at Kuchs Brothers and indications point to a large crowd to greet these artists.

50 Years of Service to the Dairy Industry

IN 1878 Dr. De Laval invented the first continuous discharge centrifugal cream separator. Since then more than four million De Laval Separators have been made, and they are now being used in every country of the world where cows are kept.

Fifty years ago dairying was undeveloped and of little importance. Today the dairy industry is the largest and most profitable branch of agriculture. The products of the dairy cow bring the farmers of this country more than three billion dollars a year in a steady cash income.

De Laval Separators revolutionized dairying, and authorities everywhere say they have done more than any other factor to develop dairying to its present size and profitable condition.

First in the beginning, De Laval Separators have kept the lead ever since. Now the 1928 "Golden Series" which we have on display mark another step forward. They are the most complete, efficient and beautiful cream separators ever made.

The best way to judge a new "Golden Anniversary Series" De Laval is to see and try one. We shall be glad to show you the many new features and refinements.

Contractors Equipment and About Fifty Workmen at Savannah.—Time Limit Not Announced.

(From the Savannah Reporter.)

The contractors, Kolterman & Koontz from Omaha with their equipment and about fifty workmen reached Savannah Monday over the Burlington and will probably be ready to begin on their contract next Monday of building about twelve and a half miles of grading and constructing culverts together with incidental work on State Highway 71.

N. J. Koontz is the local representative of the contractors and expects to have his office on the road. He has all three projects now let. This does not include project 290D, which is about 6,100 feet and is the distance from where the pavement ends at the fair grounds north and west to connect with project 290C. This is northwest through the E. R. Gregory tract. It begins 900 feet east of the Gregory tract. not quite the center of the Auble tract. Another contract must be let to connect this end with the fair grounds paving and this is project 290D.

Project 290C is 2.665 miles and crosses the present pavement on Highway One which ends west of the J. T. Riggin farm. Here is where the state highway workmen began Friday morning to set the grade stakes preparing for the contractors immediate arrival.

Project 290C ends near the Bennett Lane school house and here project 290B begins. Its distance is 4.969 miles north and it ends some place near the Wesley Chapel Church. At a point where project 290B ends project 290A begins and its length is 4.922 miles and it ends at a point two miles west of Bolckow at the county line.

Kolterman & Koontz have three caterpillar tractors and four elevating graders and much other equipment. Their contract with the highway department was not available and the actual number of days for the completion of the grading has not been made public but it is probably the first of October or November and maybe earlier.

TALK OIL AT SHAMBAUGH

LEASES SOUGHT FOR A TEST WELL NEAR THERE.

SAY PROSPECTS GOOD

Expert From Oklahoma Fields Tells Farmers Surface Indications Are Favorable.

(Clarinda Herald).

For a month past an expert from the Oklahoma oil fields, Gerald Benner, has been investigating oil prospects along the W. Nodaway river basin, and talking with farmers. He has been making headquarters at Coin, several men from there having interested themselves in Mr. Bedner's views as to prospects for some day having a line of oil derricks extending from Braddyville northward to past Clarinda. Shambaugh is about the center of what Mr. Bedner considers our best prospects for oil being below the surface.

These matters came to a head Friday night at Shambaugh, when a meeting, largely attended by nearby farmers, gave Mr. Bedner and his friend, Clark Davidson of Coin, an opportunity of telling farmers the views of Oklahoma and Texas oil men that the signs are just right in this vicinity for an abundant yield of oil from beneath the surface. They base their views on what has happened in other oil fields.

Start Drilling in Six Months.

Mr. Bedner explained that he is interested first in getting a solid block of oil leases signed up, over a section about four miles square, or its equivalent. He must have the block signed up solid, for if oil should be struck, and one solitary farmer be out of the combine, it would permit a competing company to put down a well on that farm, and draw from the oil supply of the others.

In the leases presented for farmers to sign, the contract is made to begin drilling within six months after signing, and that the driller is given three years to produce oil, before the contract expires.

Two years ago the oil well started near Hamburg created quite a furor. It is understood that the well is to be completed deeper this summer. In Missouri near Skidmore similar drilling has been done in the past, but not to any great depths. What a bunch of practical oil drillers could do in this country in securing oil remains to be seen. In case Mr. Bedner should be successful in securing his leases, a geologist would follow, to make a study as to the most promising place to start a well, before drilling operations would start. Nothing has been said as yet as to our local people putting any money into the proposition.

High School Students Vote for a Field Day

Board of Education to Be Petitioned as Substitute for Old "Walk Out" Day.

The student body of the Maryville high school voted this morning that permission be secured from the Maryville Board of Education allowing them a Field Day. The action will be presented to the board by L. E. Ziegler, superintendent. A date will be set later.

The old time "walk-outs," when Mr. Ziegler first came to Maryville and when Miss Laura B. Hawkins taught German, have been succeeded the past few years by organized field days. But it was found that only a small per cent of the students took part in the event as a school activitity. Others were prone to leave the picnic grounds just as soon as the last bite of food had been swallowed.

The students and faculty members discussed a field day for this year on the ground that if one were planned it should merit the support of the entire school.

The vote that a field day be arranged carried by a large majority.

If permission is given, an executive committee will be appointed to govern the work of sub-committees and a carefully worked out field day will be arranged.

What Nodaway County Churches Are Doing

A BROADCASTING STATION

Comment on the Uniform International Series for March 25, 1928. Review Lesson.

Wm. Southern, Jr.

It was summer in A. D., 29. The travel along the great white road which wound through the valley, halted before the Roman custom house in Capernaum. There had been no rain for months and the road was dusty. The camels grunted and screamed, the donkeys bore their burdens patiently as without hope, the wooden wheels of the carts screeched a protest. All along this gray road for miles in each direction were two lines of travel, one line returning toward Egypt and the other moving toward Babylon. For this great highway was the busiest highway in the world and carried the traffic of nations and at Capernaum the Romans took their toll.

Winding away from the road in another direction was another road. This led to the sea, the great highway to Europe. Capernaum then was the center of the commerce of the world. If you wanted a message to reach some one in Egypt or Ur or Ninevah or in Rome across the seas a messenger could always be found in Capernaum.

Palestine was a most prosperous country at this time, prosperous as a producing country and as an exporting and importing country. That little country, so interwoven into the history of the religious world, was the center of that history in a commercial way. Scarcely larger than a big county in a western state, one-tenth as large as the state of Missouri, this little country supported a population of three million people. Soil carried from the rich river valley in baskets was piled behind stone fences which terraced the hills and made the vineyards. The olive trees turned their silver gray leaves to the sun.

Palestine was a Roman province. The Jews held the civil courts and disposed of the little cases and tried to persuade themselves that they were running the country. But Rome held strong hand and no Jewish court could impose a sentence of death. A friend of mine said the other day that he thought all trials for capital crimes should be in a federal court. It is worth thinking about. In England the crown takes these cases and in France. It was so in Rome.

The religion of the country was that of the Jews. The high priests and the rulers of the synagogues ran the churches, the Sanhedrin laid down the law, the Torah had laws and the rules for everything and the Sadducees, the lawyers of that day, interpreted the laws. When Jesus was teaching one day a lawyer said: This man speaks as one having authority, he speaks as no other man ever spoke. The remark was called because the lawyers had an authority, a precedent, a printed or written rule to cover every case. Jesus simply laid down a principle and quoted no law to support it.

It was with this situation that Jesus came on the final stretch of his teaching. He made his headquarters at Capernaum because he was not talking to and teaching the Jews in the little country of Capernaum, but the peoples of the world. He knew that what he did and what he said at Capernaum would be broadcast wherever men talked. The word of the healing of Peter's wife's mother would be told in Ur and at the same time in Egypt and the sailors on the sea would tell one another about the strange things which were happening in Palestine. Capernaum was the broadcasting station of the world at that time.

When I said that Palestine was prosperous I did not mean that all the people were prosperous. There was plenty of money in the banks or whatever took the place of banks, the money lenders had plenty of money, the traders found plenty of money, but then as now that did not mean prosperity. Only a few were wealthy. The great mass of the people were poor, lived on rye bread and dried fishes and fruits. Disease was prevalent.

Also religion had dropped to a low ebb. Rules, ritualism, legalism took the place of sincerity. God was the God of the tyrant. The poor were helpless and there was nothing of hope for them.

Then came Jesus teaching a strange doctrine, healing, doing kind things, loving the poor as well as the rich. It was at Capernaum that he called Levi from the place of customs and at Capernaum that he ate with the crowd of sinners which called down upon him the scorn of the well-to-do. This dinner cost him all chance of social prestige. He was not in with the right people. If he chooses to associate with questionable characters he makes his own bed, let him lie upon it.

Golden Text—And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people.—Mat. 9:35.

All this is found in the Gospel of Mark. He is identifying Jesus to us who read. John the Baptist is dead. Jesus sent word of what he was doing and it was this. He healed the sick, he cast evil out of men's lives, he declared that doing good was our highest obligation in life, he said nothing about getting rich. He won the multitudes of the common people. He held no office and asked none. He had no property and acquired none. He pictured the Kingdom of God in the hearts of men and illustrated what he meant in simple stories of the things about him. He gathered his disciples, an incongruous lot, and taught a simple religion of the heart and of the life.

When the Jews who were still hoping for war, for a leader who would throw off the yoke of Rome and bring the nation back to its former glory, tried to make Him king he refused. Then they all fell away from him. From that time, the time he fed the five thousand, he began to teach his disciples and us the difference between the spiritual and the material. The people did not understand what he was driving at, the warlike fell away and conspired in other directions. Ever among his own disciples the real truth was not understood until after he had died. Had he not died on the cross we could never have had the understanding we have of the spiritual and of his great meanings.

May I illustrate the spiritual by the present attitude of the two great political parties of today? As I see it they are seeking only to find a man who can be elected and who is subservient in dealing out the power and the glory and the money of office. The platforms will be made for the purpose of getting votes. The promises will be made for the purpose of winning. Nothing else matters. Government does not matter. The good of the country does not matter. If we can win with a man who spits on our most sacred things we will nominate that man. Ideals don't matter. Religion doesn't matter.

Under like circumstances what did Jesus do, what did he broadcast to the world from the dusty, busy crossroads at Capernaum? They offered to make him king. He refused and continued to alleviate suffering, to teach that things spiritual which could not be seen or touched or tasted were the great things of this world and he lived and died that these teachings might come down to us. We can understand them much better than those who heard him speak. We have eighteen centuries to look back over and to analyze and to show us that he was right.

Missionary Societies of World Meet Tomorrow at Jerusalem

London, Mar. 23.—The greatest recorded gathering of missionary societies will assemble in Jerusalem tomorrow for the inauguration of the International Missionary Council's meeting.

Representatives from every Christian county will live together under the shadow of the Mount of Olives during the 16 days of public conferences and private discussions.

"The gathering on the Mount of Olives will be different from previous meetings," declared the Rev. William Paton, one of the secretaries of the International Missionary Council, in an interview here, "since not only the leaders of the missionary committees, —such as the Bishop of Salisbury, and Dr. John R. Mott, President of the World's committee of the Y. M. C. A., —and in addition such men as the Bishop of Uganda, Bishop Linton of Persia, Canon Gairdner of Cairo, and Dr. Henderson of South Africa, but also a large number of men and women from the younger churches in the East and in Africa will be present."

In addition to the regular delegates, a number of political, economic, and ethnologic experts are expected to give advice on various technical matters scheduled to come before the Council.

"For instance," continued Paton, "when discussing industrialism in the East and labor problems in Africa, we shall be aided by such a man as R. H. Tawney of the London School of Economics, and the International Labor Office has decided to be officially represented as well.

"To such experts as G. T. Loram, one of the commissioners for native affairs in South Africa, and Dr. R. R. Moton, the head of Tuskegee Institute in Alabama, we shall be indebted for advice on racial problems and negro education. There will be numerous other recognized experts to whom we shall turn in the matter of work in the rural areas, the special problems of the Pacific, and religious education."

The meeting is the direct outcome of the World Missionary Conference held in Edinburgh in 1910. Then was displayed the necessity of a permanent organization to deal with problems of co-operation and the International Missionary Council, formed after the War, was organized to meet that need.

Besides delegates from the British Isles, the United States, the Dominions, and the Continent of Europe, there will be nationals from India, China, Japan, Turkey, Syria, Egypt, Malaysia, and various parts of Africa.

In speaking of the proposed methods of dealing with the relations between Christian and non-Christian systems, Paton explained that an attempt would be made to get away from the traditional lines of formal comparison between systems. "We shall endeavor to see what it is the devout Moslem or Hindu lives by," he said, "and so clear the way for a statement of the Christian world mission which will do full justice to the non-Christian churches at their best. All our preparatory material has that attitude in mind."

"Must Honest Man Be Christian" M. E. Topic

Crosby Hymns to Feature Evening Service.—"Christ at the Center" Is Morning Subject.

Another will be "Echo Singing" by a soprano and tenor and the response by the full chorus. There will also be a quartet consisting of Mrs. B. H. Bronson, Mrs. Emmett Scott, W. T. Garrett and B. H. Bronson, singing "He Will Give You Rest."

The sermon subject Sunday morning will continue the series on "Christ at the Center." The topic will be "Christ and the Nations." The anthem by the choir will be "Lift Up Your Heads," by Rogers.

There will be three special meetings next week, on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights. The service begins each evening at 7:45. There will be much general singing and special choruses, duets and solos. The sermons, according to the pastor, will deal with "questions that everybody is asking." The first will be "The True Christ" and he will discuss the questions, "Is He the Son of God?" "Did He Rise From the dead?" "How Did He Bear Our Sins?" "What Is Faith in Him?"

Wednesday the topic will be "The True Christian," and these questions will be answered: "What Should He Believe?" "What Should He Do?" "What Feelings Should He Possess?"

On Friday night the sermon will be on the question of "The True Church." "What It Is Not;" "What It Is;" "Who Founded It?" and "Who are its Members," will be among the questions discussed. Any question is welcomed at any of these meetings and may be dropped in the Question Box at the entrance.

CHRIST AND THE BLIND BARTIMAEUS

As Christ and his disciples traveled out from Jericho, they came upon a blind beggar, Bartimaeus, son of Timaeus sitting by the roadside. As the crowd passed by, the beggar cried: "Jesus, thou son of David, have mercy upon me."
Those nearest Bartimaeus attempted to silence him. But his cries attracted the attention of Jesus. "Call ye him!" the Master commanded. At the word, Bartimaeus cast aside his garment and sprang forward.
"What wilt thou I should do unto thee?" Christ asked the beggar. "I would receive my sight," the blind man answered. "Go thy way," Jesus said. "Thy faith hath made thee whole." Straightway Bartimaeus received his sight and joined with those who followed in the train of Jesus.

CHARLES CLEAVER, a man about town
KENNETH SPOTSWOODE, a manufacturer
LOUIS MANNIX, an importer

THE STORY THUS FAR

Vance believes Skeel was innocent of the murder of Margaret Odell and that he lay hidden in a closet while the strangler did his work. Markham ridicules the theory but Vance is unshaken. He shatters Cleaver's alibi of being out of the city the night of the murder and urges Markham to check up thoroughly on Mannix's whereabouts. Dr. Lindquist, who had lied once before, is brought in again and questioned.

CHAPTER 32

Doctor Lindquist winced and considered the matter at some length.

"And if I admit that my affection for Miss Odell was other than paternal—what then?"

Markham accepted the question as an affirmation.

"You were intensely jealous of her, were you not, doctor?"

"Jealousy," Doctor Lindquist remarked, with an air of ironic professionalism, "is not an unusual accompaniment to an infatuation. Authorities such as Krafft-Ebing, Moll, Freud, Ferenczi, and Adler, I believe, regard it as an intimate psychological corollary of amatory attraction."

"Most instructive," Markham nodded his head appreciatively. "I am to assume, then, that you were infatuated with—or, let us say, amatorily attracted by—Miss Odell, and that on occasions you exhibited the intimate psychological corollary of jealousy?"

"You may assume what you please. But I fail to understand why my emotions are any of your affair."

"Had your emotions not led you to highly questionable and suspicious acts, I would not be interested in them. But I have it on unimpeachable authority that your emotions so reacted on your better judgement that you threatened to take Miss Odell's life and also your own. And in view of the fact that the young woman has since been murdered, the law naturally—and reasonably—is curious.

The doctor's normally pale face seemed to turn yellow and his long splay fingers tightened over the arms of his chair; but otherwise he sat immobile and rigidly dignified, his eyes fixed intently on the district attorney.

"I trust," added Markham, "you will not augment my suspicions by any attempt at denial."

Vance was watching the man closely. Presently he leaned forward.

"I say, doctor, what method of extermination did you threaten Miss Odell with?"

Doctor Lindquist jerked round, thrusting his head toward Vance. He drew in a long rasping breath, and his whole frame became tense. Blood suffused his cheeks; and there was a twitching of the muscles about his mouth and throat. For a moment I was afraid he was going to lose self-control. But after a moment's effort he steadied himself.

"You think perhaps I threatened to strangle her?" His words were vibrant with the intensity of his passionate anger. "And you would like to turn my threat into a noose to hang me? Paugh!"

He paused, and when he spoke again his voice had become clearer. "It is quite true I once inadvisedly attempted to frighten Miss Odell with a threat to kill her and to commit suicide. But if your information is accurate as you would have me believe, you are aware that I threatened her with a revolver. It is the weapon, I believe, that is conventionally mentioned when making empty threats. I certainly would not have threatened her with thuggee, even had I contemplated so abominable an act."

"True," nodded Vance. "And it's a rather good point, don't y' know.

The doctor was evidently encouraged by Vance's attitude. He again faced Markham and elaborated his confession.

"A threat, I presume you know, is rarely the forerunner of a violent deed. Even a brief study of the human mind would teach you that a threat is prima facie evidence of one's innocence. A threat, generally is made in anger, and acts as its own safety-valve."

He shifted his eyes. "I am not a married man; my emotional life has not been stabilized, as it were; and I am constantly coming in close contact with hypersensitive and overwrought people. During a period of abnormal susceptibility I conceived an infatuation for the young woman, an infatuation which she did not reciprocate—certainly not with an ardor commensurate with my own.

"I suffered deeply; and she made no effort to mitigate my sufferings. Indeed, I suspected her, more than once, of deliberately and perversely torturing me with other men. At any rate, she took no pains to hide her infidelities from me. I confess that once or twice I was almost distracted. And it was in the hope of frightening her into a more amenable and considerate attitude that I threatened her. I trust that you are a sufficiently discerning judge of human nature to believe me."

"Leaving that point for a moment," answered Markham non-committally "will you give me more specific information as to your whereabouts Monday night?"

Again I noted a yellow tinge creep over the man's features, and his body stiffened perceptibly. But when he spoke it was with his habitual suavity.

"I considered that my note to you covered that question satisfactorily. What did I omit?"

"What was the name of the patient on whom you were calling that night?"

"Mrs. Anna Breedon. She is the widow of the late Amos H. Breedon of the Breedon National Bank of Long Branch."

"And you were with her, I believe you stated, from eleven until one?"

"That is correct?"

"And was Mrs. Breedon the only witness to your presence at the sanitarium between those hours?"

"I am afraid that is so. You see, after ten o'clock at night I never ring the bell. I let myself in with my own key."

"And I suppose that I may be permitted to question Mrs. Breedon?"

Doctor Lindquist was profoundly regretful.

"Mrs. Breedon is a very ill woman. She suffered a tremendous shock at the time of her husband's death last summer, and has been practically in a semi-conscious condition ever since. There are times when I even fear for her reason. The slightest disturbance or excitement might produce very serious results."

He took a newspaper cutting from a gold-edged letter-case and handed it to Markham.

"You will observe that this obituary notice mentions her prostration and confinement in a private sanitarium. I have been her physician for years."

Markham, after glancing at the cutting, handed it back. There was a short silence broken by a question from Vance.

"By the bye, doctor, what is the name of the night nurse at your sanitarium?"

Doctor Lindquist looked up quickly.

"My night nurse? Why—what has she to do with it? She was very busy Monday night. I can't understand. . . Well, if you want her name I have no objection. It's Finckle—Miss Amelia Finckle."

Vance wrote down the name and, rising, carried the slip of paper to Heath.

"Sergeant, bring Miss Finckle here tomorrow morning at eleven," he said, with a slight lowering of one eyelid.

"I sure will, sir. Good idea." His manner boded no good for Miss Finckle.

A cloud of apprehension spread over Doctor Lindquist's face.

"Forgive me if I say that I am insensible to the sanity of your cavalier methods." His tone betrayed only contempt. "May I hope that for the present your inquisition is ended?"

"I think that will be all, doctor," returned Markham, politely. "May I have a taxicab called for you?"

"Your consideration overwhelms me. But my car is below." And Doctor Lindquist haughtily withdrew.

Markham immediately summoned Swacker and sent him for Tracy. The detective came at once, polishing his pince-nez and bowing affably. One would have taken him for an actor rather than a detective, but his ability in matters requiring delicate handling was a byword in the department.

"I want you to fetch Mr. Louis Mannix again," Markham told him. "Bring him here at once; I'm waiting to see him."

Tracy bowed genially and, adjusting his glasses, departed on his errand.

"And now," said Markham, fixing Vance with a reproachful look, "I want to know what your idea was in putting Lindquist on his guard about the night nurse. Your brain isn't at par this afternoon.

"Do you think I didn't have the nurse in mind. And now you've warned him. He'll have until eleven tomorrow morning to coach her in her answers. Really, Vance, I can't conceive of anything better calculated to defeat us in our attempt to substantiate the man's alibi."

"I did put a little fright into him, didn't I?" Vance grinned complacently. "Whenever your antagonist begins talking exaggeratedly about the insanity of your notions, he's already deuced hot under the collar.

"But, Markham, old thing, don't burst into tears over my mental shortcomings. If you and I both thought of the nurse, don't you suppose the wily doctor also thought of the nurse, don't you suppose the wily doctor also thought of her? If this Miss Finckle were the type that could be suborned, he would have enlisted her perjurious services two days ago, and she would have been mentioned, along with the comatose Mrs. Breedon, as a witness to his presence at the sanitarium Monday night.

"The fact that he avoided all reference to the nurse shows that she's not to be wheedled into swearing falsely. . . . No, Markham, I deliberately put him on his guard. Now he'll have to do something before we question Miss Finckle. And I'm vain enough to think I know what it'll be."

Car Crashes Into Pickering Building

Milton Butler's Machine "Runs Away."—Many Oats Sown.—Former Bloomfield Woman Dead.

(By O. G. Null)

PICKERING.—The touring car belonging to Milton Butler of the South Side Bakery of Maryville caused considerable excitement on the principal business street of Pickering last Saturday, when it ran away without a driver and rammed the west side of the W. C. Alexander Grocery, breaking the weather boarding and also doing considerable damage to the car.

It seems that Mr. Butler had parked his car on the north side of the street in front of the bank. When he tried to start it, the starter locked and he got out, leaving the car in gear. When the starter was disengaged the car ran across the street and over the walk as above described.

The past week has been ideal for field work and as a result the farmers have been busy sowing oats and grass and planting potatoes and gardens. A large acreage of oats is being sown and it is very seldom that they are planted in so good shape as this year.

Considerable clover and sweet clover is being sown also in this vicinity.

It is understood that the girl's father registered the title as a tribute to the way his daughter conducted the business for him during the war.

Sage Tea Turns Gray Hair Dark

By SHIRLEY BLAKE

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture. You can get this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 75 cents, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

Final Grain Review.

Chicago, Mar. 23.—Wheat futures slumped sharply below the previous close on the board of trade today. Corn and oats were weak all day and when wheat's support broke, a general wave of selling swept over all pits depressing all futures.

Final figures: Wheat ¾c to 1⅝c off; corn, 1⅜c to 2c off; and oats, ⅝c to 1½c lower.

Provisions closed unchanged.

Wheat shot into a sharp fractional advance just after the opening, on more alarming reports from central winter wheat areas. The March and May went to new high prices on the movement and the July attained the highest figure on the crop. Favorable news from the southwest, however, combined with lower Liverpool cables, weakened the market and trading fell off, prices declining rapidly. Export business was light. Receipts were 335 cars and cash wheat held unchanged.

Corn was weak, featureless and quiet all day, with prices going steadily lower. Many enthusiastic bulls of a week ago were selling their corn and standing by to await lower price levels. There was no news of importance. Surprisingly heavy receipts of 249 cars helped the dip. The cash market declined 1c.

Oats were also dull and featureless, declining with corn. Reports that seeding of new oats as well under way was a weakening factor. Receipts 59 cars and cash oats held unchanged.

BEARCATS TO PLAY FLORIDA TEAM, MAYBE

Invitation for Both Football and Basketball Games Extended by Lakeland College.

If present plans materialize, the Bearcats of the State Teachers College may encounter Southern College at Lakeland, Fla., on both the gridiron and basketball court, next year, it was learned today.

In a letter from the athletic department of the southern school, recently received by Coach H. Frank Lawrence, athletic director of the State Teachers College, some possible dates in October were given for a football fracas between the two schools, and the local athletes were cordially invited to "come to Florida if you are ever down this way."

Other Towns Help Oregon Fete Champs

Proceeds of Various Festivities Go Toward Sending Basketball Team to Chicago.

Oregon, Mo., March 23.—Citizens of Oregon, aided by large delegations from nearby towns, last night staged a monster celebration in honor of the local high school basketball team, which last Saturday night emerged victorious in the finals of the state meet at Columbia.

Large delegations from Maitland, Mound City, Fortesque, Forest City and Craig, were present and several hundred attended a banquet in the community room of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The Rev. Alvah Huff, pastor of the church was the principal speaker at the banquet. Talks also were made by school officials and members of the team, who were honor guests. The Mound City High School orchestra, directed by Professor Thormure, furnished music. The room was decorated in red and white, the basketball team's colors.

The big turnout last night resulted from a tour staged this week by local business men, who visited other towns and extended invitations to all to come to Oregon for the festivities. The response was pleasing and other communities are helping finance the team's Chicago trip early in April to compete in the national high school tournament.

Wednesday night the local Rebekah Lodge presented a play, "The Village Postmaster," under the direction of Mrs. Thomas Meagher, the proceeds going to the fund for the Chicago trip. Receipts from tonight's banquet also will be given to the team.

Barnard, Maryville Men in Auto Accident

Automobiles of Roy Walker and B. D. Miller Are Damaged on Highway West of Bolckow.

(Barnard Bulletin.)

Late Saturday evening while driving south in his Ford roadster on Highway No. 71 just west of Bolckow, Roy Walker, accompanied by his wife, and Orle Walker, was hit by a Ford coupe driven by B. D. Miller, of Maryville. No injury was done to occupants but both cars were considerably damaged.

Miller said the light from the Walker car blinded him and he was unable to see where he was driving. Walker was to the right of the road as far as possible when the accident happened.

Miller assumed all responsibility for the accidents and paid for the repairs on the Walker car, which was taken to a garage in Bolckow.

Miller is a traveling salesman for the Sifers Candy Company, of Iola, Kan.

Chicagoan Who "Knew Too Much" Is Slain

John Infantino, Called for Questioning in Esposito Murder, Shot Kneeling at Bed.

Chicago, Mar. 23.—John Infantino, 30, who was to have been called for questioning in the murder of "Diamond Joe" Esposito, was shot to death in the bedroom of his home here early today.

Infantino, a cousin of "Samoots" Amatuna, who was assassinated a year ago, was found kneeling at the side of his bed. He had been shot three times through the heart.

It was recalled that a man named Infantino had been named as one of several men who had held a conference with Diamond Joe recently.

Police believe he may have known something of the shooting of Esposito Wednesday night, and that he had been done away with to prevent his "telling too much."

Civilian Supervision in Nicaragua Asked

Suggestion of LaGuardia Causes Debate in House of Representatives.

Washington, March 23.—Recommendation that the Nicaraguan general election be supervised by civilian volunteers instead of military forces, made by Representative LaGuardia, Republican, New York, in a letter to Secretary Kellogg, precipitated a debate on the Nicaraguan situation when read in the House today.

LaGuardia's letter said "Universal suffrage and secret ballots are absolutely inconsistent with uniformed Marines and fixed bayonets."

He said that by sending civilian supervisors the United States can render real service to the Nicaraguans, if they really desire assistance in their election as specifically asked for.

Senator Ferris of Michigan Dies at 75

Excessive Devotion to Duty Blamed for Fatal Illness.—His Wife Prostrated.

Washington, Mar. 23.—Senator Woodbridge N. Ferris, Democrat of Michigan, died here at 6:15 a. m. today of bronchial pneumonia.

His death followed an illness of several weeks, brought on by overstrain that led successively to infection of bronchial tubes and lungs.

The wife of the 75-year-old senator was prostrated, but her condition was declared not serious. Ferris' body will be buried in Big Rapids, Mich. Arrangements will await Mrs. Ferris' recovery.

Excessive devotion to duty was blamed for the senator's illness. He contracted a cold during a lecture tour last December, but returned to his senate desk. For two weeks, however, he had been confined to his hotel.

Ferris, a Democrat, was selected Senator from Republican Michigan in 1923 by the sheer force of his personality.

He was distinguished for great powers of oratory.

Yet in the Senate he never made a set speech. He voted consistently along Democratic lines. He recently announced he would not accept a "favorite son" nomination from his state, and added he would retire from office rather than embarrass Al Smith's candidacy in Michigan. Ferris was an ardent dry, and Smith has been called a wet candidate.

It is believed a Republican will be appointed to succeed Ferris, since Governor Green of Michigan, is a Republican.

Arkansas Not for Smith, Says Robinson

Asked Not to Make Him "Favorite Son," Senator Declares—Will Go Instructed.

Washington, March 23.—The Arkansas Democratic convention delegation will be uninstructed, but it is not for Governor Al Smith, of New York, Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, said in a statement here today.

Robinson said he had asked the state central committee not to select a delegation pledged to him as "favorite son" and that the committee yesterday followed his suggestion and chose an unpledged delegation.

"In my opinion Arkansas is not for Governor Smith and I think the delegates will reflect that fact in the convention," Robinson added.

Little Rock, Ark., Mar. 23.—Arkansas delegation to the Democratic National convention will support Joseph T. Robinson for president at the outset but it was expected the tide of favor will swing from the favorite son to Governor Al Smith as the convention progresses.

The state central committee decided yesterday that the Arkansas delegation should go to the National meeting uninstructed but a resolution was adopted by the group, endorsing Robinson.

Approximately 75 per cent of the delegates were known to be moderate Smith supporters.

Mrs. W. W. Potts Worse.

Mrs. W. W. Potts of Burlington Junction is reported worse today. Her condition is most critical.

Word to Hickman by "Underground Wire"

"The Fox" Learns of Delay in Hanging Several Hours Before Official Notice.

San Quentin Prison, Cal., Mar. 23.—The "underground telegraph," the devious system by which news is transmitted within the walls of prisons, told William Edward Hickman the date of his hanging had been postponed several hours before he was notified by officials.

The state supreme court yesterday set April 3 as the date for hearing of Hickman's appeal from the hanging sentence imposed for the murder of Marion Parker. Under California statute which specifies hanging must be delayed until at least 30 days after appeal is heard, Hickman's execution, scheduled for April 27, was postponed.

Prison officials said Hickman showed little emotion when they informed him of the postponement and that he had learned of the action through prison communication systems.
